The NSF MRSEC Education Directors Network recognized that attendees at diversity-related recruitment events often asked “What does a MRSEC offer to me personally, and how do I get involved in one?”. An effort led by K. Dreyer at Penn State sought to answer this question by producing a promotional video that highlights student opportunities across the NSF MRSEC program.

When completed in early Summer 2022, this video will be displayed at in-person and virtual conference booths (SACNAS, IMRC, ERN), posted on mrsec.org, and shown to REU and PREM students and new MRSEC members during on-boarding, community-building, and networking events to inform, inspire, and encourage involvement in MRSEC.
